

Susan Edwards

Speaker ♦ Coach ♦ Consultant

Susan grew up in a rural southern town and is proud to say she is bilingual. She speaks English and Southern. After receiving a degree in Accounting from The University of Tennessee, she began her career with a Fortune 500 manufacturing company, then spent 25+ years in a variety of leadership roles with manufacturing companies and small businesses. She went on to found Enlighten Management Consulting, Inc. The leadership, communication and conflict resolution skills she developed along the way have resulted in her being as comfortable in the Board Room as on the shop floor. She works with successful businesses and individuals to take their business, or career, to the next level. She spent years developing her 5 Step “Leading With STYLE” Program in support of this.

Networking Tips From a Reformed Introvert

Networking is about making connections and building enduring relationships. For some, networking is like having to take a required course in college that you had no interest in taking. One of the biggest career mistakes people make is to stop networking when they get a job. Networking not only helps you find a job. It helps you grow your career within your current company or outside of your current workplace.

In this Presentation, we'll explore the Benefits of Networking and Key Tips for Success.

Key Takeaways are:

- ⇒ Identify the Benefits of Networking
- ⇒ Learn 5 Tips To Establish a Connection
- ⇒ Explore the Different Venues for Networking

"I was not looking forward to this presentation, but Susan took what I consider to be a boring topic and made it fun and interesting."

"I have a better appreciation for networking after hearing the presentation."
